BRIEF.

—Mrs. A. P. Burroughs has returned from a two weeks' visit in Madison and Edgerton.

—Remember the free cooking school of the pure, unadulterated Wheat Baking powder at Conrad & Jones to-morrow.

—The arguments in the Blensdale divorce case were made this morning last at noon the case was submitted for judgment.

—The Riverside polo team left Milwaukee at 2 o'clock this afternoon and are expected here at eight o'clock this evening.

—The polo excitement was at fever heat last night when the result of the Janesville-Racine game was telephoned from Milwaukee.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Minor, South

Jackson street, fourth ward, entertained a few friends last evening at a progressive supper party.

—The suit of C. W. Jankman to recover $150 from Michael Miso on account of the killing of his horse, was decided against him by Justice Preckard.

—People's Lodge No. 400, Independent Order of Good Templars, held a regular weekly meeting last evening—Jodge room in the Court Street M. E. church building.

—At the National Guard meeting at Madison yesterday the first regiment officers decided to ask Governor Rusk to order the regiment into camp from July 12th to 17th. The place has not been decided upon.

—Helmstreet, the North Main street dragage, appears to have a "corner" on the gum market; he advertises that he has fifty-three barrels of spruce gum, direct from the Green mountains, which he will close out by the barrel or in small lots.

—In the wrestling match at Chicago last night Lewis was a winner, the "Jap" withdrawing after the second fall. He objected to the choking grip which Lewis used on him and refused to trust the Wisconsin man's promise not to bring that hold into play on him again.

—Officer Ed. Smith brought one disconsolate to the bar of justice this morning, while Turney Ashton put in an appearance, he having three waylaiders under his charge. An assault had been under way before the court this morning was settled without a trial.

—Polo and sleigh-ride parties are now all the go in this vicinity. The grand victory of our polo team is just now the subject of many conversations, and every night the streets are full of sleighs containing loads of merry young people enjoying the excellent sleighing. Wonder what the Racine people are talking about!

—The identity of the young lady who told her Milwaukee friends that she was Minnie Kline, has been discovered. She is a daughter of a prominent Milwaukee citizen and after being betrayed under promise of marriage was abandoned at the hotel. She feared to go home but had no money and invented the story to secure aid.

—Some of the Racine sports in attendance at the polo game at Milwaukee having "put up their last nickel" on the result of the game, are now playing "the baby act," in order to regain their money.

It is said that one prominent Racine man put up a hundred dollars with a Janesville man, and now refuses to "give up," all because Ehlert took Wyle's position in the Janesville team. Racine sports had better stay at home if they wish to keep their money.

—The bible reading at the Congregational church last evening was attended by the largest audience that has been present on any night but Sundays. Mrs.

Stacy was even more eloquent than usual and her subject "The Source of Power in the Earthly Church," was very well handed. No more services will be held this week but on Sunday evening she will commence again and will remain for one week, holding revival meetings. It was not known yesterday whether she could remain or not but last evening word was received from Whitewater giving her an other week in this city.

—Between twelve and one o'clock this morning Nikit Watchman McGinley, of the east side, noticed a dog collar of smoke issuing from the cornice of the Milwaukee street front of the Myers house, and gave a full alarm to engine company No. 2; the fireman's private alarm was turned in, and in a moment the boys responded to the call. The chief engineer and one or two other members of the fire department groped their way through the hall ways, under the roof, and on top but were unable to discover any cause for the smoke. The investigating party was convinced that Mr. Myers ought to put a stand pipe and fire escape on this building, as the means of obtaining access to the roof in case of a fire are very limited, and to say the least extremely dangerous. In case the house was filled with smoke it would be impossible to mount the roof.

—Rivalry in business is becoming more and more pronounced every day.

In one west side grocery store each of the three clerks is puzzling his head for schemes to get ahead of the other, all on account of a first ward young lady.

Each one thinks he has the inside track; the first because she told him that she dreamed about him one night; the second because he walked through a door that she had hung a washbowl over, and the third because in the face of all these circumstances she smiles on him so sympathetically. A disturbance is expected as one of the boys has already found five bent pins in his coat tails, another was shocked by a cupful of molasses in his overshoe, and the superintendent of the delivery wagon lives in the expectation of being thrown down cellar almost any dark night. Developments are awaited anxiously.

FIFTY YEARS.

OF Mutual Joy and Sorrow Reflected in a Golden Anniversary.

The coming and going of the years is marked on the dial of every life by some anniversary day which with each recurrence serves as a reminder of the fact that the rolling years move rapidly and with ever increasing speed. Happy the eve of any life that is cheered by pleasant memories. Supremely happy the golden era of two lives which by close and intimate contact through all the experiences of fifty years, have so gradually blended that thought and purpose, joy and sorrow, hope and anticipation are mutual and the compass of half a century ago "Ye shall be no more twain," is fully realized in the oneness of the fading years. The golden wedding is a joyous reminder of life's possibilities, and this anniversary came with peculiar pleasure to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boyce, of this city, and the event was celebrated in an appropriate manner at the home of their daughter, Mrs. A. Eager, at the village of Evansville, last evening. Besides the three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Boyce—Mrs.

A. Eager, and Mrs. W. S. Smith, of Evansville, and Mrs. Dr. Loomis, of this city—with their respective families, the following guests composed the anniversary party: Rev. and Mrs. Sewell, Rev.

E. Robinson and wife; H. Spencer and wife; S. Caldwell and wife; Levi Leonard and wife; G. A. Dibble, Mrs. Jacob

West, Mrs. A. Ballard, Mrs. Vervallen,

Mrs. J. T. Baker, C. H. Wilder and wife; Isaac Clifford and wife; L. A. Hoxie and wife; L. T. Pullen and wife; B. Campbell and wife; C. K. London and wife; H.

Porter and wife; A. C. Thorpe and wife.

Elder Sewall delivered a brief and appropriate address, congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Boyce at having attained the fiftieth "mile stone" in their matrimonial journey, after which a fervent prayer was
